All human communities have language - and language is central to our lives. We use language not only to communicate with each other, we use it in our dreams, in our art, and some have even argued that language is the stuff of thought itself. This camp introduces concepts and methods in linguistics - the scientific study of language.

Here in the U of A Department of Linguistics, we study language in order to understand the physical, neurological, and psychological properties of human language. Students will develop analytical skills, learn about the scientific method and hypothesis testing, experience how language is learned and produced, discover the linguistic and cultural history of Arizona, learn how to analyze a foreign language, and even CREATE LANGUAGES of their own!

2016 Schedule

DAY 1	Phonology & Phonetics: How do we pronounce words?
DAY 2	Syntax & Morphology: How do we put words together? Tour the U of A campus and library!
DAY 3	Historical Linguistics: How do languages change over time? Languages of Arizona: What languages do people around here speak?
DAY 4	Psycholinguistics & Acquisition: How do our brains process language? Tour U of A Linguistics Labs!
DAY 5	Prepare and present a poster describing a language that YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS will CREATE!!! And share it with your parents!
