This is My Title

keywords: these, are, my, keywords

This is the start of the abstract. Note that there’s a single blank line between this paragraph and the keywords above. Also note that the first line is not indented, and the text is single-spaced and left-justified. The title is centered in 14 point bold Times New Roman. The keywords are centered in 12 point bold Times New Roman. Observe that the word “keyword” is not capitalized.

The second paragraph is separated from the first by a single blank line. The document is standard letter size, 8½ x 11, with 1-inch margins on all sides. There is no identifying information on the document.

Examples are numbered, beginning with (1), and interlinear glosses are aligned using tabs. The Doulos Sil font is used for IPA characters. Examples are provided in-line.

(1) a. a-skaya ji-jii-ali-hnohehtiisk-̃}?i a-ahnika
   ‘The man that I was talking to left.’

   b. ji-kinii-atuuliisk-ō?i atlatiithla káayuula khilo uu-hwas-ē?i
   REL-1B.DL-want:INC-HAB car already someone 3B-buy:CMP-NXP
   ‘The car we want has already been bought.’
   (lit. ‘The car that we want, someone already bought it.’)

The abstract does not exceed 750 words, excluding title, keywords, and references, and the document is no longer than 2 pages. The reference section uses standard LSA-style reference format.

Word count: 203

References
Punske, Jeff and Andy Barss. (accepted). It’s not positive, anymore. Paper to be presented at the 85th Annual Meeting of the Linguistic Society of America, Pittsburg, PA.